

The following section is comprised of stories and photographs from the book "Old Tales and Trails of Florida". This book was written by Myrtle Hilliard Crow (1888). Her handwritten notes were saved and eventually published by her daughter, Mildred. The book was published in cooperation with the Osceola County Historical Society in 1987. The book tells the history of many of the pioneers of the Kissimmee area of Florida in the 1800s. The portions here represent the Bass families part of that story.
